Covering Cream Cans.

A great part of the value of keeping cream cool on the farm and at the station or creamery is lost if the cream is exposed to the direct rays of the sun while being hauled from the farm to the point of sale. Far too few people stop to realize the importance of covering their cream cans when bringing them in to town. Expensive jacketed cans are not a necessity to keep the cream cool. In summer weather just an ordinary piece of wet burlap thrown over the cans will keep the temperature of the cream as much as 20 degrees below what it would rise to if left uncovered while being transported over the average hauling distance.

IT SLUGS HARD.

Coffee a Sure and Powerful Bruiser.

"Let your coffee slave be denied his cup at its appointed time! Headache—sick stomach—fatigue. I know it all in myself, and have seen it in others. Struggle that thinking, reasoning beings will persist in its use," says a Topeka man.

He says further that he did not begin drinking coffee until he was twenty years old, and that slowly it began to poison him, and affect his hearing through his nervous system.

"Finally, I quit coffee and the conditions slowly disappeared, but one cold morning the smell of my wife's coffee was too much for me and I took a cup. Soon I was drinking my regular allowance, tearing down brain and nerves by the daily dose of the nefarious beverage.

"Later, I found my breath coming hard, had frequent fits of nausea, and then I was taken down with bilious fever.

"Common sense came to me, and I quit coffee for good and went back to Postum. I at once began to gain and have had no returns of my bilious symptoms, headache, dizziness or vertigo.

"I now have health, bright thoughts, and added weight, where before there was invalidism and the blues.

"My brother quit coffee because of its effect on his health and now uses Postum. He could not stand the nervous strain while using coffee, but keeps well on Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Postum comes in two forms: Postum Cereal—the original form—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—a soluble powder—dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water, and with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

Both kinds are equally delicious and cost about the same per cup.

POULTRY FACTS

KILL VERMIN ON CHICKENS

Liberal Application of Sulphur Should Be Made Soon After Men Have Been Given Her Eggs.

It is bad business to have to catch the chickens and hen to kill lice after they have left the nest, when the remedy can be applied with so little trouble before hatching begins.

A week or ten days after the hen has been given her clutch of eggs sprinkle them and the whole of the nest and the straw for a little distance around it with the sulphur when the hen is off.

The night following dust the hen herself by lantern light. Disturb her just enough to make her bristle her feathers and then dust sulphur well down to their roots. This treatment will not injure the hen in the least, nor the chickens when they are hatched.

The chickens should be dusted once or twice after they are hatched. One cupful of sulphur will be enough for both applications. Tobacco, snuff, grease and carbolic powder, etc., are not equal to sulphur for killing lice. The dust bath for laying hens should have a quarter of a pound of sulphur well mixed through the dust.

The brooder and the coops before being used should be fumigated and the boxes given a coat of hot lime wash.

FOWLS REQUIRE SOME SHADE

Easy Matter to Grow Something Along Side of House to Provide Protection From Sun.

Fowls that are deprived of shade in summer often fall victims to sunstroke and diarrhea from overheating. Some shade should be provided. The house is always too hot for their comfort if it is their only defense against the fierce rays of the summer sun. It is an easy matter to grow something against the west and south side to provide extra protection.

A house that has vines or tall plants growing against one end and partially shading the roof will be several degrees cooler than one bare to the sun. Boards collect and radiate a lot more heat than green growing things. It makes little difference what you use. Castor beans grown under the protection of a slatted crate until too big for the fowls to destroy will prove good shade. Big branches broken from trees will help on very hot days.

If you can do nothing better lay some branches or stones on the roof of the house and spread old carpet or horse blankets over them. It will greatly reduce the heat inside the house during the heat of the day. Shut out the sun and allow some opening on the side away from the sun for free circulation of air. The fowls will seek their shelter during the hot part of the day and show their appreciation by greater vigor and health when the trying period is over.

Many so-called cases of cholera in hot weather are nothing more than indigestion from the ravages of hot weather during which they had inadequate protection against the heat.

GROWTH OF GEESSE HASTENED

Fowls Require Supply of Green Feed and Plenty of Water as Swimming Pool During Summer.

Geese require plenty of green food, which they pluck from the growing plants and plenty of water as a swimming pool during the summer. When they have this, the old geese and ducklings that are past four weeks old, will not need to be fed during the summer.

A feed of moistened meal once a day hastens their growth, but where there is plenty of herbage, green and fresh, from which they can pluck their food, it will not be necessary to feed them, providing there is plenty of water for them to swim in.

5 Women Avoid Operations

For years we have been stating in the newspapers of the country that a great many women have escaped serious operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it is true.

We are permitted to publish in this announcement extracts from the letters of five women. All have been recently received unsolicited. Could any evidence be more convincing?

1. HONOLULU, Me.—"I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached and I was so nervous I could not sleep, and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation, but I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Hodgdon, Me.

2. SHELBYVILLE, Ky.—"I suffered from a severe female trouble. My right side hurt me badly—it was finally decided that I must be operated upon. When my husband learned this he got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and after taking it a few days I got better and continued to improve until I am now well."—Mrs. MOLLIE SMITH, R.F.D., Shelbyville, Ky.

3. HANOVER, Pa.—"The doctor advised a severe operation, but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it."—Mrs. ADA WILT, 363 Walnut St., Hanover, Pa.

4. DECATUR, Ill.—"I was sick in bed and three of the best physicians said I would have to be taken to the hospital for an operation as I had something growing in my left side. I refused to submit to the operation and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and it worked a miracle in my case, and I tell other women what it has done for me."—Mrs. LAURA A. GRISWOLD, 2437 East William Street, Decatur, Ill.

5. CLEVELAND, Ohio.—"I was very irregular and for several years my side pained me so that I expected to have to undergo an operation. Doctors said they knew of nothing that would help me. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I became regular and free from pain. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."—Mrs. C. H. GRIFFITH, 1568 Constant St., Cleveland, O.

FIGHTING AT SHORT RANGE

Italian Soldiers Persist in Using the Rifle and Disregard "Usefulness" of Bayonet.

Among the Italian troops fighting in the Isonza region are those from Corsica, Sardinia and the south of Italy. These, when hand-to-hand fighting comes, throw away their rifles with their bayonets, and draw their daggers, assailing their man at close bodily quarters. They cannot be taught to use the knife or bayonet on the rifle; they want a knife in their hand and their hand on their enemy. The old centuries-long use of the knife and stiletto cannot be overcome. And this doubtless is an inheritance. The Romans fought all their wars hand-to-hand with knives or short swords. The infantry line which was the main reliance in all battles advanced and threw the pike, which was a short, heavy spear, that at thirty paces went like a rifle shot and small battering ram combined. After this one discharge the men drew their swords or knives and advanced to a bodily contest, shield against shield, with cut and thrust to decide. And the Romans had a maxim that "the nation that shortens its swords, lengthens its boundaries." It has been noted in this year of war that there is a return in many ways to old methods. The use of hand grenades is one illustration, making real the old term grenadiers who were originally foot soldiers who threw grenades. The French now give preference to the bayonet as the deciding factor in an assault, after the cannonade and rifle fire. The Germans prefer the rifle. Now we have these Italians going further back to the hand knife of whatever kind. In our own army a new bayonet like the Philippine bolo has been adopted. Instead of the present sword bayonet. It makes an all-round knife for many purposes and can be used like the South American machete for cutting and hewing in domestic requirements as well as for warfare.

FIXED IT IN HER MEMORY

Ingenious Method by Which Lawrence Hutton Cured Waitress of Her Forgetfulness.

The late Lawrence Hutton used to say that having to take a little trouble would impress a fact on anyone's memory so that he would never be able to forget it. In illustration he would tell this story:

"Our waitress, Maggie, could never remember to put the salt on the table, and time after time Mrs. Hutton would remind her to do it. One morning it was absent, as usual, and I said, 'Maggie, where is the stepladder?' 'It's in the pantry, sir.' 'Please bring it in, Maggie,' I said, kindly.

"Maggie brought it in with a look of wonder on her face. 'Put it right beside the table,' I commanded; and when she had done so I added, 'Now, I want you to climb up to the top of it, look all over the table and see if there is any salt there.'

"Maggie never forgot the salt again."—Youth's Companion.

City's Location.

A woman from the South visiting New York for the first time was much agitated when, after being conveyed through the Hudson tube, she found herself in another subway. Rushing up to a knowing-looking individual, she asked, in an agitated tone: 'Sir, do please tell me where is New York?'

"Lady," said he, with the utmost gravity, "it's right at the top of those stairs."—Harper's Magazine.

Keen Financiering.

Liveryman—It will cost you two dollars for the first hour and one dollar for each additional hour.

Lady—Well, I'll use for two additional hours. I've got some shopping to do and will not require it for the first hour.
